

Ethnic Minorities EMBRACE Programme

Lehman Brothers offers you a unique insight in exploring an exciting career in a global investment bank. Give yourself the opportunity to join the Ethnic Minorities EMBRACE Programme for a two-week paid internship working first hand in our Investment Banking, Fixed Income or Equity divisions.

Give yourself the challenge this summer to increase exposure to and understand the fundamentals of investment banking, gain real-life experience in a fast-paced environment, identify valuable career development skills, meet new people and develop a network for career information and support.

EMBRACE is a Lehman Brothers Multicultural Network sponsored initiative.

The Program will offer you the following:

- Two-week paid internship within one of our business divisions
- Networking events with senior business people
- Career guidance training sessions
- Feedback and support from industry recruitment specialists

When is it?

The Ethnic Minorities EMBRACE Programme will take place over two weeks during the summer holiday period from 25th June – 6th July 2007.

Who should apply?

High academically achieving candidates from ethnic minority backgrounds who are in their first year of full-time study at a UK university. Fluency in English is a prerequisite however a second European language is useful. You will need to be ambitious, with a track record of initiative, leadership and teamwork.
